

Greece

Areas of interest and skill set

It can be good for job seekers to establish direct contact with employers, by searching for specific companies and websites, according to your interests and skills.

Acquiring information on jobs

The Greek Manpower Employment Organisation (OAED) provide guidance and support for all EU countries. The OAED has also Greek EURES adviser.

Surfing the Internet and searching advertisements can also prove helpful.

CV and cover letter

CV's can be submitted electronically. A CV should be registered either through OAED or EURES. Send your CV to interested companies.

Further Information

After getting a job you need to get a taxpayer identification number. Apply for an identification number at the local tax office. Social Security is mandatory and people have to apply for an AMKA (social security number).
